CASA ECOMAYA GARNERS CANTERLAND MEXICO SPONSORSHIP

Local Yucatan Natural Stone Company a Perfect Fit for “Green” Home

Mérida, Mexico (May 1, 2015) – David Patterson, General Contractor and co-owner of Casa Ecomaya, has announced a new sponsorship agreement with Canterland Mexico, manufacturer and exporter of fine Yucatan stone products. Canterland Mexico is slated to provide the flooring and external natural stone finishes of this spectacular 3,900 square-foot four bedroom, four-and-a-half bath modern design structure featuring green technology new to Mexico, state-of-the art amenities, a home automation system, solar panels, eco-friendly VOC paint, plus Energy Star windows, lighting, appliances, electronics and cooling equipment.

Specializing in decorative, architectural and custom stone products, Canterland Mexico is a quintessential local resource of indigenous material that Casa Ecomaya had hoped to find. “Maria and I researched local resources extensively and feel so fortunate to team up with our Yucatan neighbor, Canterland Mexico and Andrés Maldonado. The design of our home will highlight the beautiful, natural stonework, quarried in our area and crafted by native artisans,” noted Patterson.

Casa Ecomaya, targeted as the first LEED certified home in Mexico, will serve as a showroom and educational tool for homeowners and professionals demonstrating the opportunities and advantages of earth-friendly, energy efficient homes. The combination of green building concepts and design merged with a unique mixture of advanced and local materials will be the first of its kind and stand as an example of what is possible in an unexplored market.

Casa Ecomaya will potentially change the standards of home construction in Mexico and Latin America and Canterland Mexico is thrilled to be a part of it. “Canterland Mexico and Casa Ecomaya are a perfect match. Casa Ecomaya will be a showcase for our high-quality stonework and craftsmanship, with unprecedented worldwide exposure as part of this amazing trend-setting dream home,” explained Andrés Maldonado, owner of Canterland Mexico.
